

“(3) Section twenty-seven applies to orders made under subsection (2) of this section as nearly as possible as if they were made under that section.

“(4) This section applies to a person who is deemed to be a miner by virtue of paragraph (a) of subsection (2) of section three as if the termination of the tribute agreement or the dissolution of the partnership, as the case may be, were the termination of his employment by the owner.

“(5) Qualified pensions payable under this section are subject to this Act as if they were payable under section nineteen and the like consequences follow, except that all amounts payable under this Act shall be reduced by the proportionate difference between the pension which would have been payable if the miner had continued in employment until the age of retirement and the qualified pension payable under this section.

“(6) A miner who has been granted a qualified pension is subject to section five as if his age when his employment was terminated was the age for retirement.”.

4 Section twenty-one of the Principal Act is amended by omitting from paragraph (b) of subsection (1) the words “whose death has been found to be due to injury and”. Pensions to dependants.
